

An opportunistic fixed income strategy, designed to provide low correlation to core fixed income, offering current yield, low interest rate sensitivity and limited downside volatility.

FUND OVERVIEW

- The Semper Total Return Fund is a UCITS which seeks to provide a high level of risk-adjusted current income and capital appreciation
- The Fund is invested in fixed income securities similar to Semper Capital Management's existing U.S.-domiciled MBS Total Return Strategy
- Investments are concentrated in U.S. Mortgage-Backed Securities (MBS) including Non-Agency and Agency MBS and related structured credit sectors including Commercial Mortgage-Backed Securities (CMBS) and Asset-Backed Securities (ABS)

FUND REVIEW

The U.S. Dollar SEMTIUU share class returned -0.22% in March, reflecting relative outperformance versus the Bloomberg Barclays MBS Index return of -0.51% and the Bloomberg Barclays Aggregate Index return of -1.25%. RMBS bonds generally outperformed Agency MBS except for Agency CRT mezzanine/subordinated bonds which remained soft from market technicals despite continued loan and structural strength. RMBS with duration declined modestly in price despite spread compression. We continued to rotate into attractive profiles, adding bonds yielding ~4.7% and selling bonds yielding ~2.5%. Call activity accelerated last month, led by NPL profiles.

MARKET HIGHLIGHTS

The U.S. Treasury yield curve rose and steepened again with the 10-year Treasury yield rising 34 bps to 1.71%. Agency MBS outperformed Treasuries as prices fell less, and RMBS generally outperformed Agencies. The housing market continued to benefit from fiscal and monetary policy accommodation and government policy initiatives including extended forbearance programs and foreclosure moratoriums. Home prices nationally are now 11% higher versus a year ago, with supply remaining constrained and demand strong. Mortgage rates, while higher, remain near historical lows, supporting continued favorable loan performance. These fundamentals continued to support RMBS. High levels of prepayments and bond calls combined with modest new issue activity are supporting RMBS as well.

OUTLOOK

The Fed and the Administration remain committed to supporting economic growth which will be accretive to housing and consumer credit. Agency CRT subordinated bonds, which are highly sensitive to housing strength, began to show renewed strength late in March into the first part of April, propelling RMBS performance to begin the second quarter. We remain concerned about rising U.S. yields, and are focused on adding bond profiles that will benefit from housing strength and structural delevering from continued loan performance while minimizing rate sensitivity. We will continue to focus on floating securities like Agency CRT, along with short duration fixed rate bonds like NPLs, SFR, and Non-QM which offer a strong combination of roll down opportunity and carry, with relatively low interest rate sensitivity.
